Though time goes on
We continue to stride
In search of a new nation
Where dreams are the root of hopes
And hope is the seed of change.
Yes, the tide has changed;
There is still time, a wisp of fate
Is shaped by youthful hands.
To build a new life,
Slowly, persistently
We approach our goal
Immune to all opposition.
Though at times we slip and fall,
We rise again and proceed.
Keep on Truckin'!

CATHEDRAL HIGH SCHOOL

We've been iced in and drowned with sunshine
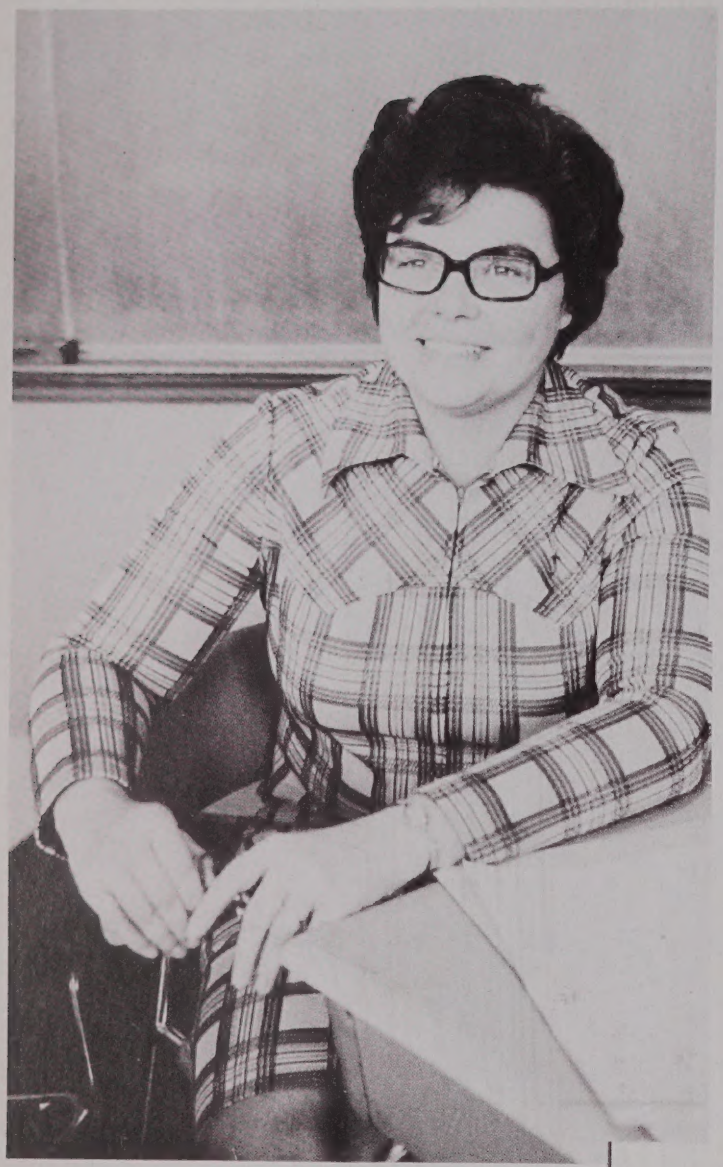
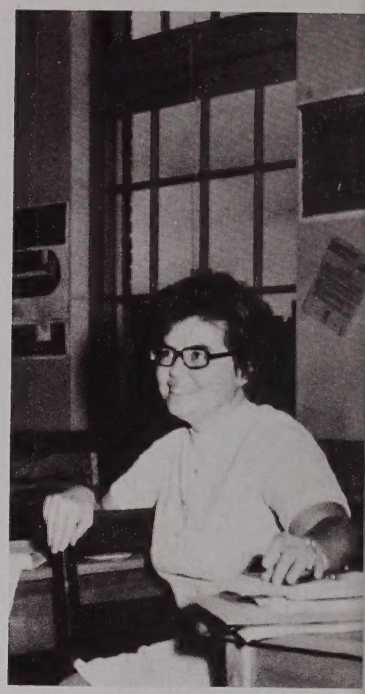
in these places,
in these familiar places
we remember.





Sister Pat Andrews

To reach out to others
is the greatest human experience.

To give wisdom to those who are not wise
is the greatest human gift.

To show that you really care
is the greatest human strength.

We look up to you because you have never looked down on us,

We love you because you have loved us.

The bell rang. Chairs screeched across shiny floors, feet scuffed its brightness. As faces bounced through the narrow corridors, lockers slammed with a metalic ring. School was out.

Soon the rooms were empty, except for a few busy students and teachers who stayed on for club meetings. The bustle had calmed into a dead quiet, though an occasional laugh could be heard echoing through the building, piercing the stillness.
